

How Much Does It Cost?

How much value do you get by attending a Chippewa District Activity? With the economy struggling and the cost of everything rising we need to get the most value for our money. There are many activities you can do with your son, while there is activities that are cheaper most cost quite a bit more. Even if the actual ticket or admission price is less the amount of time you spend at the event is quite a bit less leading to the event actually costing more. This does not even take into account the quality of the activity just the amount of time spent at the activity. While many of these events are quality family time, none of them offer you the most quality, fun, and educational time you can spend with your son.

The Chart below illustrates how Chippewa Activities are a great value for you and your son to spend time together. The prices listed below do not include food or souvenirs unless they are included in the Ticket/Admission price. The Chippewa Activities events all include a patch so every scout receives a souvenir and the Winter Experience includes meals. Many of the events listed below will probably cost a significant amount more once food and extras are included such as souvenirs and parking
